

Washington April 24. 1865.

My dear Sir

Your letter and the paper are rec<sup>d</sup> for which accept my thanks. It is difficult to realize that the horrible crime which has filled the whole country with grief is a fact. I have to say even in the midst of the mourning visible in every face that I fully believe the confidence so universally expressed in Mr. Johnson is well founded

Yours Truly,

Preston King