

MEMORIAL OF PRESIDENT LINCOLN IN LONDON.—The London Star says. There are now building in London a church, a public hall and a school-room attached, intended to be a memorial of the abolition of slavery in America, and of the public services of the late President Lincoln. The work is under the superintendence of Dr. F. Tompkins, D. C. L. who has spent some time in America. The Rev. C. W. Denison, the American agent, has now presented this object in Paris, as a meeting was held on the subject at the Salle Evangelique, in the exhibition on Thursday. J. P. Reynolds, one of the commissioners for the State of Illinois, presided, and the Rev. T. B. Hart, the minister of the English Chapel, Rue Royale, officiated as secretary. Statements with reference to the memorial were made by the Rev. Mr. Denison, the Hon. Mr. Usher, Dr. Smith of Boston, Dr. Freeze of New Jersey, and others, and a resolution commending it was passed by the meeting.
