PIANO.

The first system of the piano accompaniment consists of two staves. The upper staff is in treble clef with a key signature of two flats (B-flat and E-flat) and a 3/4 time signature. It begins with a series of eighth notes, followed by a half note, and then a series of eighth notes. The lower staff is in bass clef with the same key signature and time signature. It begins with a series of eighth notes, followed by a half note, and then a series of eighth notes.

The vocal staves are arranged in four parts: AIR, ALTO, TENOR, and BASE. Each part has a staff with a treble clef and a key signature of two flats. The lyrics are written below the staves. The first line of the song is: 1. Be si - lent! there com - eth on spi - rit wings sped, The. The second line is: 2. A deep brood - ing sor - row comes o - ver the heart A. The third line is: 3. Be si - lent! our fa - ther hath laid him to rest, A. The fourth line is: 4. A deep brood - ing sor - row comes o - ver the heart A.

THE MUSICAL CURRICULUM

BY GEO. F. ROOT.

THIS is emphatically a new book in a new field. It provides instruction and music, not only for the PIANO-FORTE, but also for the things that should be studied with it, viz: the VOICE and HARMONY—not harmony through the eye, but harmony through the ear; not dry calculations, but living and beautiful forms. It goes on the plan that the pupil should know as well the chords and harmonies he is in while playing and singing, as he does the key or kind of time; and moreover it proves that these things can be done by preparing well for each subject, and then by adapting the instruction, and the music to the state of the pupil, and making the steps succeed each other in true progressive order.

The whole book may be divided into two kinds of lessons—the one for musical culture and the other for muscular culture. Not that there is no practice for the muscles in the former, nor exercise for the musical taste in the latter, but each is devoted mainly to its own object. Those lessons which are designed to awaken, develop, and strengthen a love for music, and with which are imparted a knowledge of time, tune, and expression, (Rhythmics, Melodics, and Dynamics,) are written in many pleasant and tuneful forms, and are called exercises, pieces, songs, études, solfeggios, etc., while those which are simply for the development and strengthening of the muscles of the fingers, hands, and vocal organs, do not pretend to be pleasant or tuneful, but depend upon the benefits they confer in the way of flexibility and execution, for their popularity. These lessons are called TECHNICS, and embrace five finger exercises, scales, arpeggios, and miscellaneous exercises of many kinds and forms.

The contents of the book may be summed up as follows:

|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------|
| Instrumental exercises for reading music, the acquirement of musical knowledge, and the cultivation of the taste; numbered, but bearing no other names than the topics they illustrate and teach..... | 224 |
| Vocal exercises and solfeggios for similar purposes..... | 48 |
| TECHNICS..... | 419 |
| Divided as follows—Five Finger Exercises..... | 78 |
| Scales, Major and Minor..... | 115 |
| Arpeggios, Major and Minor..... | 146 |
| Vocal..... | 45 |
| Miscellaneous..... | 35 |
| Piano lessons that may be played as duets and trios..... | 44 |
| Chromatic exercises..... | 21 |
| Songs..... | 39 |
| Exercises in Thorough Base..... | 24 |
| Pieces for the Piano..... | 43 |
| Of the foregoing numbers, are used for the study of transposition..... | 120 |
| These, when played according to direction, increase the lessons in the book to..... | 1485 |

It should be said here that these pieces for the piano, and many of the songs, are fully equal to the author's popular sheet music in length and value, and would alone, if published in sheet form, cost more than three times the price of the book.

Price $4.50.
